

WE ARE HIRING

Alliance in the Alps
The Community Network

We are expanding our team as soon as possible - initially for a limited period of one year.

Project staff (m/f/d)

Focus on communication and project management

The position can be full-time or part-time. Your responsibilities will include editorial support for the website and social media channels, especially for the dissemination of project results. You will also provide operational support to the team in project implementation and event organization.

You have experience in communication and project management and communicate confidently in German and English. You work independently and reliably, are a team player and solution-oriented. You are motivated to travel to project meetings and events in the Alpine region. Knowledge and affinity for sustainable regional development and a good knack for working with local decision-makers will help you a lot. The Alps with their natural and cultural diversity are close to your heart!

We offer a versatile job with flexible working hours (also from home) and an international working environment. A place of residence in the vicinity of our office is an advantage, but not a must.
